

Investment Project of Solar PV Plants construction. On the roof of the museum was installed a 20.71 kW photovoltaic power station.

Energy policy is now focused on developing indigenous energy sources, mainly renewables, and on extending the lifetime of the nuclear reactor that supplies nearly one-third of the country's electricity.

Prompted by a severe electricity supply crisis in the mid-1990s, Armenia has revamped its energy sector over the past 20 years. Parts of the sector have been privatised, some companies have been ...

The World Bank supported Armenia with a sequenced, investment-focused approach centered on improving the reliability and safety of the high-voltage transmission network.

During the compilation of the energy balance, it is necessary to take into account the flows of energy carriers and all types of the energy by their generation, recycling, transformation, distribution, storage ...

In line with the "Energy Sector Development Strategy Until 2040," adopted in 2021, the country aims to diversify its energy supply, modernize electricity networks, accelerate the transition to a liberalized ...

Since there are no fossil fuel resources in Armenia, the function of Ministry of Energy Infrastructures and Natural Resources of Armenia is to increase energy efficiency in the economy, develop nuclear ...

Armenia's energy sector faces significant challenges due to its heavy dependence on Russian infrastructure and resources. In an interview with CivilNet, Astghine Pasoyan of the Energy ...

The principal bodies involved in energy sector governance in Armenia include the Ministry of Territorial Administration and Infrastructure (MTAI), which is responsible for overall energy ...

According to the Review by the International Energy Agency, the energy mix of Armenia was dominated by natural gas (58.8% of total energy supply in 2022), and Armenia's domestic ...

Web: <https://www.rrrprojects.co.za>